Any questions about the activities? Turn the page over!

READ a comic book or graphic novel. → Check out the library's juvenile graphic novel section for ideas.

WATCH a movie with subtitles. → You can watch a movie in English with subtitles turned on, or a movie in another language with subtitles. You could even count watching episodes of (subbed!) television.

READ a new book (published in 2024-25). → Just as it says! Publication dates are usually at the beginning of a book, under 'copyright'.

WRITE a short story/poem/other piece. → Write whatever you like! If you'd like to submit it to us, we'll put the best ones online, but you don't have to! Email swantonpl@gmail.com if you're interested.

PARTICIPATE in the library's summer scavenger hunt. → The scavenger hunt entry form is in the registration bag and can also be found here: https://swantonpubliclibrary.org/scavenger. Participating in the hunt gets its own prize!

READ a book from the 1900s (or earlier!). → Publication dates are at the beginning of a book.

ATTEND any of the Family Art Hubs. → Every Wednesday at 11:00 am through July 23, when a Bob Ross painter, Nate Miller from Extravagant Works Studios, will demonstrate the technique!

LISTEN to an audiobook. (Short ones count!) → Any audiobook of any length counts! The library has a collection of picture books paired with an audio reading, usually about half an hour long.

READ a book that became a movie. → A lot of movies now were books first! Read any of them.

LISTEN to birdsong (and try to see which birds are singing!). → Listen outside or through an open window. See if you can spot the singing bird(s) and what color they are!

PARTICIPATE at least once in STEAM Club or LEGO® Club. → STEAM Club is every Friday at 4:15 pm (except July 4). LEGO® Club is every Tuesday in June and July at 2:00 pm.

READ one of the Book Club books. Grab a kit from the library! → Pick up your free book club kit at the library! Learn more here: https://swantonpubliclibrary.org/kids/virtual-book-club-grades-k-5

ATTEND any of the all-ages family programs at the library. → Check in your registration bag for the schedule, at the front desk, or check here: https://swantonpubliclibrary.org/summer-reading-program.

READ a nonfiction (real) book. → If it is happening or did happen in the real world, it counts.

WATCH a movie that was a book first. → There are a lot of them out there! Watch any one you like.

REREAD your favorite book. → Any of your favorites will do!

MAKE a colorful piece of art and gift it to someone. → Use any kind of art medium you like and give to anyone! Family, friends, community helpers, a librarian… 😊 You can also make something at either Family Art Hub or STEAM Club.

READ to someone OR have someone read to you. → A book read to you at the library counts. Reading to a pet counts too!

ATTEND any of the youth events at library (or at Oak Openings). → Check in your registration bag for the schedule, at the front desk, or check here: https://swantonpubliclibrary.org/summer-reading-program. The Oak Openings events are on June 5 at 10:45 am (Fun with Fishing) or July 16 at 2:00 pm (Geocaching); please register to attend!

READ a book with a purple cover. → Any purple on the cover counts!
